

The One Thing
YOU ARE NOT DOING THAT WILL

BRING YOUR
Vision Into Reality

CONNIE TRESEDDER

Are you a mature Christian who knows God wants to do a new thing through you? Have you seen a glimpse of this new or expanded vision God has for you, but you are not sure how or when this is going to happen?

Do you feel like you are carrying this burden alone? Well, you most certainly are not.

You've heard it said before that when God calls you to something, he equips you. What I'm going to share with you in this guide is the beginning of that equipping. It will change your life.

Leaders usually pride themselves in having excellent communication skills. This is obviously important for effective leadership. Whether you are leading yourself as an entrepreneur or leading others in ministry, your family, or in business there is one aspect of communication that is often ignored.

That aspect is listening. Don't stop reading because I'm going to talk about some secret ways to listen for success! In order for you to reach your goals and see that God-given vision come to pass you will have to engage in new ways of doing things for new levels of impact and success.

If you want different results, you have to DO something different.

First and foremost, as a Christian, you need to be listening to the Holy Spirit. This isn't one of the surprising secrets, but it is a valuable reminder.

It is easy to rely on your expertise and the way you've accomplished success in the past. The way you have always done things won't necessarily work as you "enlarge your territory" and expand.

A secret about listening you may not have considered is that you need to listen to yourself at a deeper level. Learn to listen to all your inner self -talk. Recognize when your thoughts are not helping you get closer to your goals. Often times, this inner dialogue can not only keep you from moving toward your goals but could actually derail your dreams from coming to pass.

Whether you realize it or not, you act on what you believe. Your self-talk may stem from words that were spoken over you when you were younger, or traumatic experiences throughout your life. (Many times, these limiting beliefs are in your sub-conscious.)

This may be a pattern your brain takes that you are not even aware of. But, this pattern of belief (i.e. I'm capable of this level of success, but I don't think I'm good enough for THAT level of success) can cause you to act in one way or another. These actions might not bring success but actually sabotage it.

Often, as a leader, you need some deeper guidance. Important aspects of your life that you are close to are usually difficult to hear God's leading in clearly.

Cynthia was an example of this. She heard from God clearly in her journal except in one aspect of her life. This area was so important to her and such a challenge that she felt confused rather than confident when making a decision in this part of her life.

After leading her in conversational prayer God brought revelation about things that had been clouding her judgement in this situation. She felt peace for the first time in a long while and her stress level lowered significantly.

I later asked God about this because I have seen countless clients receive such powerful help from God in our sessions. God gets all the glory, by the way. I am the facilitator. He is the Way-Maker!

I was curious, so I asked God, “Why do you do it this way? Many of the people I’m helping hear your voice as well as I do. Why don’t you just reveal this to them directly? Why don’t they get revelation and freedom in their journal?”

Now, I wasn’t being sassy with God. I knew I was doing exactly what God needed me doing, but I was truly curious. I felt like God told me, “Because I created you for community.” This made sense to me, but God blessed and shocked me a few days later when I was attending a training for advanced inner prayer healing.

The Christian psychiatrist leading the session stopped in the middle of his presentation and went away from his notes. He explained that the largest neuropathway that goes across your brain goes from language over to community. He explained that you can get “half-way” there with yourself and God...with your journal, with language. But then you need a facilitator to come into community with to get the rest of the picture, the rest of the healing, the rest of the freedom from limiting beliefs that you don’t even realize you have. Wow! I knew God had him explain that just for me!

Not only were we created for community, our brains were created for community!

Let me recap the most important lessons before I close:

If you want to be a more effective leader, learning and applying active listening is very important. If you are sensitive to the Holy Spirit's leading, he will show you creative "out of the box" strategies to help inspire others. It is important for people to feel heard, so they in turn can hear and follow your leadership.

So, if you are ready for the vision of increase that God has put on your heart to come to pass, then begin doing this one thing... listening. Unseen things are holding you back, and if they are not broken off you will NOT rise to the level you are meant to. You will stay stuck, and the things you are struggling with will only get worse. How convenient for Satan.

Now you very well might be able to identify those hidden blocks through prayer between just you and the Holy Spirit. But if you want a listening partner, to help facilitate that conversation between you and the Holy Spirit, I have done this for many people. And I welcome you to sign up for a free "Enlarge Your Territory" strategy call. Where I will help you identify the thing holding you back (that is probably not even on your radar), but that God wants you free from once and for all.

Sign up here for a free call. - I only offer a limited number of them every week, and since I am starting to promote this guide on Facebook, I suspect they will start filling up fast. So, I recommend signing up ASAP while they are still available. On the call you and I will look at your experience and your current situation, and with the help of the Holy Spirit, we will identify the #1 thing preventing you from stepping fully into the next level of impact God has for you.

You will leave the call clear, confident, and excited about taking your business, dream, or ministry to the next realm of success. I look forward to speaking with you soon.

To schedule your Free "Enlarge Your Territory" session, CLICK HERE.